The outbreak of the Covid-19 has created a global health crisis resulting with a lot of disruptions and uncertainties—facing the fact that this pandemic is immensely changing lives. Establishments have been closed, public transportation systems are suspended, and no social gatherings. Only essential businesses are allowed to open providing necessities. Moreover, to slow down the spread of the virus, everyone needs to follow certain rules: stay home, maintain social distancing, wear masks while outside and proper hygiene using disinfectant.

Starting May 16-31, the country will be under Modified Enhanced Community Quarantine (MECQ) and General Community Quarantine (GCQ). Businesses included in entertainment, leisure, tourism, beauty centers and any activities involving mass gatherings are not allowed to operate. However, this will still be a challenge to Filipino workforce, especially to the 50% employees who will report directly to their respective offices without getting too much physical contact. With that, the Bicycles and motorcycles have been given green-light by the government to serve as a one of the key mediums to help them maintain social distancing.
